

Its Summer Again...

Gas Prices are on the Rise!

We at 1st Care understand the drastic rise in gas prices and would like to make our clients aware that we offer alternative support options. 1st Care Consulting offers technical support through your high speed internet connection. Our technicians will directly connect into your computer from our office to fix certain PC problems, train office staff, and answer your support questions- saving you money and saving our environment. While, if onsite support is necessary we will be imposing a fee for service and transportation costs while the gas prices remain this high.

As always, thank you for choosing 1st Care Consulting Services, please call the office with any questions (888)333-4288.

Making Your Practice Perfect