THINKING ABOUT AN EQUIPMENT PURCHASE?

Act before year end and you can supercharge your 2006 tax deductions (and keep more of your practice's profits).

How? Simply take advantage of Section 179 of the I.R.S. Code. Section 179 lets you write off up to $108,000 on your 2006 taxes for any practice equipment purchase —whether it's clinical equipment, office equipment, computers, or even software.

- Lower your taxes. You'll write a smaller check to the I.R.S. because your purchase is deductible.
- Increase your cash flow. You'll cash in on accelerated depreciation (up to $108,000) with only a month or two of payments, boosting your practice cash flow.

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS...

Let's say you spend $25,000 on software or hardware during the fourth quarter. You can expense the entire amount from your practice revenue. The result is $7,500 trimmed off your taxes if you're in the 30% tax bracket.

Purchase cost	-----	$25,000.00
Section 179 Deduction	----	$25,000.00
TAX SAVINGS	-----	$7,500.00
		(30% tax bracket)

ADDITIONAL CASH FLOW TO YOUR OFFICE
$7,500

The Lease and Loan program, offered through Professional Solutions Financial Services (PSFS), gives you no prepayment penalties, fast approval by fax and a hassle-free system where PSFS handles the paperwork for you.
